The 300 residents who turned out heard plans for a summer recreation program at Gates and Olivewood schools, a teenage program, and the improvements of local streets.

President Bob Arp presided over the meeting and heard first from Vice President Jesse Fry concerning the proposed summer recreation program. A motion was approved to authorize the spending of up to $3,500 for this program.

Roger Carter, Director of the South Coast YMCA, presented his plans for a teenage program and expenditures of up to $3,000 were approved.

Bill Millan, area representative, went over plans for the improvement of local roads. Bob Hardesty, of Deane Brothers, told the association of his group plans to build 1,700 homes in the area within the next three to five years which will make road improvements important.

The Homeowners Association approved up to $7,000 for a median strip down the middle of El Toro Road, planting of Rockfield, Muirlands, and a portion of El Toro Road, with the understanding that Deane Brothers would complete the project.

Capistrano Homeowners Hear Summer Plans

The Capistrano Highlands Homeowners Association held their first meeting of the year, Tuesday January 29th, at the Macco Sales Office.

Newly elected President Paul Johnson called the meeting to order and introduced the new nine member Board of Directors including Vice President, Stan Berman; Secretary, Virginia Brown; Treasurer, Roger Squire and The Rev. E. J. Caldwell, Jan Bennett, Dr. Bill Stocks, Chuck Necstadt and Julis Hirsch.

There were four motions to amend the by-laws. Three were passed and one tabled to be considered by the Board of Directors and their recommendation re-submitted at the next general meeting, which will be held Tuesday, March 26th

South Orange County YMCA Drive Short By $24,000

Al Smith, Laguna Chairman, Carl Kegley, San Clemente Area Chairman, and Ray Kramer, El Toro-Mission Viejo Chairman this week indicated the South Orange County YMCA Sustaining Membership Drive for $27,000 is $24,000 short of the goal with only $3,000 collected as of today.

Smith, Kegley, and Kramer asked everyone to look in the mail for the annual appeal letter and to respond as soon as possible so that the drive goal can be realized by March 1st.

"Y" Director Roger Carter reported the YMCA, which has been officially recognized as a full-time YMCA for only thirteen months, has made unusual strides since that time, but said, "We are not keeping up with our program growth as far as needed operating income and that's the guts of potential future growth. I sincerely hope that every person who lives in South Orange County will realize there are now youth groups in every community in South Orange County and that if they are interested in boys and girls working together in a group on social, service, athletic and other events, they should give as much or as little as they are able."

EDITORIAL Local Ambulance Service Available

This newspaper was delighted to hear this week that we now have a bonafide, certificated, licensed ambulance service in our area.

The name of the service is the "La Paz Ambulance Service" and its offices are located in the Torrocenter in El Toro, and is geared to service the greater El Toro-Irvine-Mission Viejo-Laguna Hills areas. The service is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The telephone number is 837-0931.

We were disappointed to hear, however, that the California Highway Patrol has—at this writing—not seen fit to put the local La Paz Ambulance Service on their call list. According to Don Eaton, one of the partners in the ambulance service, this being put on the CHP call list is necessary for an ambulance service to stay in the black, economic wise.

This newspaper hopes the California Highway Patrol will see fit, within the near future, to put our local ambulance service on their list. The more local service we can muster the better off our area will be. To help things along this newspaper will send this editorial—along with a letter—to Captain James W. Peters who is in charge in the California Highway Patrol in Orange County, in hopes that our service will be available to the passing motorist who needs ambulance service.

Eaton, a Mission Viejo resident, said this week that the local ambulance service can save money for the people in need since the service is close. The service also means 20 to 30 minutes earlier delivery to an Orange County Hospital.

Eaton's partner in the ambulance service is Bob Duffiel. Both men are also the owners of the Mobil Service station located in Mission Viejo.

Thanks, gentlemen, for bringing us a much needed local service.

He has been president of Dana Laboratories since 1961. Bishop, his wife and four children reside in Fullerton.

JC Sets Trail- Blazing Innovation

Saddleback Junior College District has called for citizens' participation in planning the new college in what Superintendent Jack S. Roper calls a "trail-blazing innovation."

In a proposal adopted by the Board of Trustees, 110 district residents will actively help mold the new community college, in all phases from building to curriculum.

The citizens' group, to be named by the trustees, will be known as the General Advisory Committee. Under this committee will be 11 subcommittees. They are Building, Library, General Education, Adult Education, Vocational-Technical, Athletic, Counseling and Guidance, Community Services, Finance, Humanities and Coordinating Liaison subcommittees.

By working directly with the college it is believed the new college will reflect the needs and desires of the community and thereby foster a true community college, Supt. Roper said.

Representatives of the General Advisory Committee will be selected equally as possible from all five trustee areas. Members will serve until June 30 at which time the committee and its work will be analyzed.

The General Advisory Committee will meet monthly with subcommittee meetings scheduled as often as needed, Supt. Roper explained.

Subcommittee proposals will be submitted to the General Advisory Committee for discussion and action. Matters approved by the General Advisory Committee will be presented to the administration, and in turn to trustees.

Duties of committees include:

Building — Advise in general area of architectural planning and construction.

Library — Aid in library program, including acquisition of books, as well as suggest ways in which the library can benefit the community.

General Education — Advise in curriculum which has as its purpose to help develop students' worth and potential.

Adult Education — Advise in graded and non-graded courses for adults.

Vocational Technical — Advise in selection of industrial experts to serve on various subcommittees in vocational-technical areas which are commonly part of junior college programs.

Athletic — Aid in all phases in which community support can help to improve the overall program.

Counseling and Guidance — Advise in area of counseling and guidance to help college render realistic services.

Community Services — Aid in scheduling of forums, lectures, concerts, and discussion groups in order to help satisfy the aesthetic desires of the members of the college community.

Finance — Advise in matters of district finance, suggesting sources of support for general operating and capital outlay expenditures.

Humanities — Advise and provide suggestions to development of courses in the areas of Social Sciences, Languages, Fine Arts, Mathematics and Natural Sciences.

Coordinating Liaison — To coordinate matters of subcommittees that are related with each other.

Growth Continues

Mushrooming growth continues to be characteristic of the San Joaquin School District as indicated by the facts which follow:

From February 18, 1966 to February 16, 1968 enrollment in the District's schools grew from 1918 to 4521. On February 17, 1967, 3266 boys and girls were attending schools in the area.

Growth is particularly illustrated by the situation at the Irvine School. In the 1965-66 school year, there were a total of eight classes, four seventh and four eighth grades. This year there are 27, fifteen seventh grade sections and twelve eighth. Next year there will be twenty-six seventh grades and twenty-two eighth grades divided between the Irvine School and the La Paz Intermediate school.

The growth trend will not slacken. Currently there are more than 625 kindergarten students enrolled and less than 350 eighth grades. As they have for the past several years, the District's staff anticipates few idle moments.

The Curriculum Comes from Where?

Parents often wonder, "Where does the Curriculum come from?" There are other questions, too. "Why are there limits on the length of the school day and the school year?" "Why do some subjects receive more attention than others?" Answers to these questions are found in the California Education Code, a four inch thick volume of law adopted over a period of many years by the California Legislature.

This accumulation of legislation specifies the length of the school year—at least 175 days, the length of the school day—a minimum of 220 minutes in primary grades and 240 minutes in upper grades, the provision of a recess at least every hour in primary grades and multitudinous other items. The greatest impact of the law occurs in the field of curriculum and of text books. As California Educational patterns unfold, the basic curriculum is established and textbooks are then adopted for implementation of the required content.

The content is broad and nearly all inclusive. Requirements vary from grade to grade, but within the range of the following subjects: reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, health, English, geography, history, foreign language, natural science, art, music, physical education, morals, manners and citizenship, the effect of alcohol and narcotics, public safety and accident prevention and fire prevention.

Trustee Highlights

Highlights of the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees held on February 7, included action on the following agenda items:

Dr. Stanley H. Walters, currently employed on a half-time position as District Psychologist was appointed to full-time status and the Director of Special Services effective July 1, 1968.

Mrs. Marilyn Harris, currently a teacher in the Tustin School District was appointed to the newly created position of Curriculum Coordinator with basic responsibilities in the reading program. Mrs. Harris will report on March 11, 1968.

Seven new teachers were employed. Four are mid-year replacements and three occupy new positions brought about by continuing growth.

Final payment was authorized for the O'Neill School, marking completion of that project.

Girl Scouts of troop #291 were given the go-ahead for the planting of two trees at the Gates School.

A tentative statement of philosophy prepared in the District was taken under advisement for additional study.

Building Continues

Building of new school plants will continue in the San Joaquin School District. Since September of 1965, four new schools have been completed and occupied.

Construction is well under way on the La Paz Intermediate School and will soon start on School #8 located at Percia and Pepita in the La Paz Homes Development at Mission Viejo.

MV Loves Saddleback

No reports were received of anyone actually dancing in the streets of Mission Viejo this week end, but everyone in the 11,000-acre southeastern Orange County to be wearing a broad smile after the word went out Saturday that the community had been selected as the permanent site for Saddleback Junior College.

Vocing the reaction of Mission Viejo Company, the firm responsible for the community's development, President Philip J. Reilly said:

"We-as both developers of and residents in-Mission Viejo, are both elated and proud that the trustees of the Saddleback Junior College District have chosen Mission Viejo as the site for their college.

"We have worked very hard to make Mission Viejo the finest new town in America. The fact that we have grown a population of zero to over 5,000 people in less than 23 months indicates that we must have succeeded to a considerable degree. But, we are even more pleased by the fact that-through the efforts of hundreds of hard-working people-by this fall we will be able to take care of the educational needs of our young, from pre-school through junior college.

"We fully intend to put this penchant for hard work and this amazing enthusiasm into our efforts to help make Saddleback one of the finest junior colleges anywhere."

"Mission Viejo has never been 'just another new town.' From the beginning, it has been unique because it produced accomplishments rather than pronouncements. Soon, the community will become even more unusual because it will be a new college town."

"Suddenly, both the challenge and the opportunity have been doubled. If I may speak for all of Mission Viejo, I'd like to say that we accept the challenge and with these words return to our customary policy of accomplishments, first; pronouncements, later."

To start—let me comment upon the remarkable thing that is going on around us. It is something that only our grandfathers could have been a part of and develop. In the last four years we have seen the sheep and cow ranges become a thriving residential and cultural community of 2,000 people and will continue to expand.

The past 30 years I had reason to drive from Glendale to San Diego once a month on Old Hwy. 101, and it was a long way through Whittier, Fullerton and Santa Ana. There the choice was Laguna with its winding road or the inland hot road over the Irvine Ranch, "where progress stopped at the Ranch lines."

Then onto the Moulton Ranch which greeted the weary traveler with a beer jernt (spelling is right) where the green thumb is now. When I got this far I was half way to San Diego Now I am home!

Vet's Tax Forms Due

The filing period for 1968-1969 Veteran's tax exemptions begins March 1st. County Assessor Andrew J. Hinshaw announced today.

In order for Veterans to file, they must first establish eligibility for the exemption with his office at 630 North Broadway in Santa Ana.

Mr. Hinshaw pointed out that early establishment of eligibility will enable the Veteran to file the exemption claim by mail during the filing period and avoid waiting in lines at the Veterans division of his office.

Eligibility to file for the exemption is limited to Veterans of wartime active duty and persons whose active duty in the Armed Forces was terminated because of a service-incurred physical disability.

Hinshaw stated that recent legislation permits Viet Nam Veterans to file for the exemption. Thus, he said, all personnel currently on active duty, or who have served on active duty on or after August 5, 1964, are eligible to apply for the exemption this year, provided they were legal residents of California on November 3, 1964.

Hinshaw emphasized that the residence requirement applies to all Veterans, not just Veterans of the Viet Nam campaign.

Veterans who have previously filed for exemption with his office are on record and claims will be automatically mailed to them on March 1.

WOULD BELIEVE DONKEE? The Key Club of Mission Viejo High School will be sponsoring a donkey basketball game on the evening of Friday, March 8, at 8 p.m. in the gym of Mission Viejo High School. Featured during the first half will be faculty versus the stupendous students.

Donkee Basketball Game Set at MVHS by Key Club

By Chris Danforth

It's not whether or not you win the game, but how you play the game. But who said anything about playing basketball while riding a donkey?

The Key Club of Mission Viejo High School will be sponsoring a donkey basketball game on the evening of Friday, March 8, at 8 p.m., in the Mission Viejo High School Gym.

Featured during the first half will be the fantastic faculty versus the stupendous students. The Seniors and Sophomores will battle the Juniors and Freshmen during the second half. Students riding the donkeys will be those who have sold the most tickets in an all-school campaign.

The eight full-sized, authentic donkeys (with rubber hooves) will be provided by the Burro Sports Club. Riders will ride the donkeys while playing basketball. Players must pass and shoot the ball while on the donkey, otherwise they may dismount. No player is allowed to hold the ball for more than fifteen seconds. There are no out-of-bounds, no time outs, and no fouls.

Students selling tickets are now making door-to-door rounds. Adult tickets cost $1.00 and children 50c. You may also buy tickets at the door.

Meet Your Neighbor

-by Dan Wooldridge-
News Editor

Don Easton, the successful co-owner of the La Paz Mobil Station in Mission Viejo has recently initiated the La Paz Ambulance Service.

Don opened the La Paz Mobil Station in March of 1967 and it is, according to Mr. Easton "very successful." Don is partners in both businesses with Bob Duffel.

The new La Paz Ambulance Service is the first such service for the El Toro-Mission Viejo area. Prior Service originated from Laguna Beach or Santa Ana. Emergency cases using the local service will save 15 to 45 minutes.

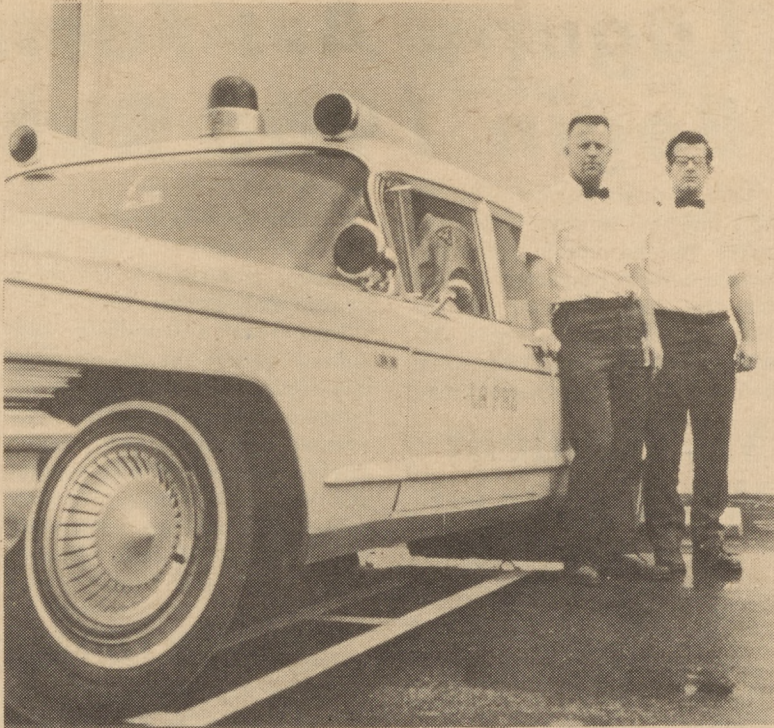

Mr. Easton and Mr. Duffel's business officially opened February 13. Offices are located in Torrocenter. Emergency calls 7 days a week and 24 hours a day should be made to 837-0931. All the employees are fully qualified and the business is fully licensed by the county and state. La Paz will serve the entire Southern Orange County area.

Mr. Easton voiced concern over the California Highway Patrol's refusal to place his company on their call list. The county contract and state license should allow La Paz's addition to the CHP's list. Bob cites an incident last weekend when a motorist was critically injured within 3 miles of his ambulance, but the Highway Patrol called Santa Ana for service. The 15-40 minute delay in such cases is of prime importance to the patient.

Easton says, "we are fully qualified and we have fulfilled all requirements of the county and state." If the CHP does not believe we are a serious business here in the El Toro-Mission Viejo El Toro-Mission Viejo area to serve the people we would be willing to post a performance bond.

Don, a native Californian, lives at 26372 Estanciero in Mission Viejo. Don and his wife Darlene have two children: Michelle, age four; and Mark, age 1½.

Don Easton spent 6 years in the military before coming to South Orange County. He is a member of the Mission Viejo Kiwanis Club and currently serve as Treasurer. (This space sponsored by the Toro Disposal Service, Chuck Waltman, owner.)

A LOCAL AMBULANCE SERVICE is now available to the readers in the circulation area of the RANCHO REPORTER. Mission Viejo Girl Visits Lebanon

by BY SYDNEY WILSON
Mission Viejo High School Student
Abroad

Lebanon, a small country half the size of Wales, is located directly north of Israel on the Mediterranean Sea. Beirut, the capital of Lebanon and my home for the year, is a city of half a million people—one third of Lebanon's entire population.

Only when prayer is being called from the neighborhood mosque, am I made aware of those 9,000 miles between Beirut and Mission Viejo. Otherwise, life here is seemingly American and surprisingly modern. Mini-skirted Lebanese window shop along French-inspired stores, as jets thunder overhead and land in Lebanon's new international airport.

Italian pizza, Mexican refried beans, American hot dogs; all easily obtainable items. But because of the high prices, these luxuries are avoided, and one quickly develops a taste for the Arabic cooking. This might include marinated sheep membrane, raw "Kibbeh" or hamburger, fermented goat cheese, or smoked eel.

The climate, much like California's, offers year-round swimming and skiing at the same time. On New Year's weekend, I went swimming in the Mediterranean in 70 degree water!

A short drive from Beirut are the famed Cedars of Lebanon, now the "in" spot for the season's best skiing. Just over this mountain range stretches the Bekaa Valley. Only 15 miles from the Israeli border, this region houses the Roman ruins of Baalbek. These majestic remains, built during King Solomon's time in honor of his wives, are said to rival the best in Rome and Athens.

Truly, this Biblical land of "Milk and Honey" has much to offer the newcomer!

Laguna Art Festival Begin 1968 Rehearsals

Less than six months after the 1967 Festival of Arts closed the gates on its most successful season to date, rehearsals started for the 1968 Pageant of the Masters, (July 12 - August 24) which producer Don Williamson believes will be the most exciting

MV Student Wins Award

Brett H. Norris, a freshman at Mission Viejo High School, was awarded a gold key on Saturday at the Statler-Hilton Hotel for his entry of a psychedelic slide in the National Scholastic Photographic Award Competition.

This is an annual competition co-sponsored by Eastman-Kodak in conjunction with the 22nd Annual National Art Achievement Awards.

The slide is being exhibited along with other winning entries at Bullock's Downtown Los Angeles store (the regional sponsor) until March 3rd at which time it will be sent to New York for judging at national level.

yet.

First on the rehearsal schedule was da Vinci's "The Last Supper," traditionally the final item on the program.

This year a complete new lighting system for the da Vinci masterpiece has been set up by lighting director Leslie Jean assisted by board member Stuart Durkee. Designed to give a softer and more even light, the new system will make the mural more visually satisfying from all parts of the Bowl, while still maintaining its authenticity, according to the producer.

With the exception of "The Last Supper," this year's program will feature 21 new items, two repeats from last season and three repeats from previous years, revised.

Tickets for the Pageant will be sold March 15-31 to Festival of Arts members. General sales by mail will begin April 1 and the box office will open for business on June 1.

Rummage Sale Set By St. Nicholas

Old or new jewelry is being collected by the Council of Catholic Women of St. Nicholas Church, to be sold at its Rummage Sale on March 22 and 23. Any discarded jewelry articles may be turned over to Mrs. Milli Costello, 33-0 Aragon (Leisure World), 837 2440.

Mrs. Costello is in charge of the jewelry project and will preside at the Jewelry Table at the planned sale in the El Toro Clubhouse.

Other items, also, which are clean and salable, are wanted, according to Mrs. Howard Lenihan who is Chairman of the Rummage Sale. These may be left at the Rectory garage.

Informational calls about the Rummage Sale are being received by Mrs. Lenihan, 837-6515, and Mrs. Duane Evans, 837-6184.

Saddleback Picks Mission Viejo Site

Saddleback Junior College District has selected a permanent campus in Mission Viejo.

The campus will be located in an area generally described on the eastside of the San Diego Freeway near Crown Valley Parkway. The state has scheduled completion of the Crown Valley Parkway freeway interchange by August.

Trustees approved opening escrow for the property, approximately 165 acres, contingent on engineering and technical feasibility studies.

The purchase is based on a cost of $12,000 an acre.

Agreement had been reached previously for a temporary campus in the general area of the selected permanent site. With selection of the permanent location on Mission Viejo Co. property, the temporary site will be leased by the district at no cost. Expense of grading the temporary site will be $80,000. This sum will be refunded to the district if the temporary campus is not within the permanent location.

The trustees' unanimous decision on a permanent site was adopted at a special meeting last week.

During this special meeting, Rossmoor Corp., which had offered property in the area of Leisure World, withdrew its proposal. A. R. Ceresa, vice-president of the firm, told trustees that a poll reflected the residents did not want a campus in their immediate residential area.

The selected Mission Viejo property is about five miles south of Leisure World.

In addition to contingencies of technical investigations, the trustees' campus selection is pending approval by the State Department of Education.

Trustees named Adrian Wilson & Associates and Ellerbroek, Koteles, Fox and Associates as architects to help in long-range planning of the campus Saturday.

Voters have been asked to vote on a $9.5 million bond proposal April 9. Revenue from bonds will be used for acquisition of a site and initial construction of a campus.

Trustees previously indicated that they wished to select a permanent location before the electorate votes on the bond measure.

Classes are scheduled to open in September in relocatable buildings at the temporary site. Classes had been planned only for first year students, however, with Orange Coast Junior College District opposing its loss of the so-called $300 seat tax for Saddleback students who would attend its colleges, the new Saddleback District college may open classes to second year students.

Trustee President Hans Vogel said the district was "seriously considering taking sophomores" in light of Orange Coast's opposition to the state law.

Vogel restated that Saddleback was restricted by law not to pay the $300 seat tax for district students attending other nearby junior colleges.

He explained that the district, however, would continue to pay the educational fee for district students attending other nearby colleges. This amounts to about $600 for each student. The seat tax, received by the colleges, is earmarked solely for facility expenditures.

Aside from Orange Coast, other junior colleges attended by Saddleback students have not publicly decried the loss of the seat tax, Vogel said.

5,000TH MISSION VIEJOAN — When Mrs. Gerad Lewis moved from Costa Mesa to Mission Viejo, she suddenly found she was the new town's 5,000th person. Commemorating the population milestone, Mission Viejo Company vice president E. B. Akins presented Mrs. Lewis with a Mission San Juan Capistrano oil painting by artist Patricia Rasar Blackburn of Mission Viejo. While company Vice President Frank Fehse slipped a "5,000" plaque over the population sign, the male members of the Lewis family enjoyed the presentation.
